Guide to the Selection Process of 2024 The Young Artists' Atelier Augmented Reality Program

National Taichung Theater (NTT) is committed to the application of technology to performing arts as well as the exploration and co-creation of interdisciplinary arts.

NTT launched the LAB X Platform in 2020, with the aim to incubate creative talents, the Young Artists' Atelier (referred to as the program) highlights the "research process" of creative ideas and practice and the public presentation of interim results. The fifth edition of the program features creative works of Augmented Reality (AR) and Body Sensing. Structured as a mentorship program, the platform functions as an incubation space for professional training, research, and experiment where young artists aged 30 or younger study under prominent guest artists from home and abroad.

The mentors of the 2024 Augmented Reality program are Joris Mathieu, director of Théâtre Nouvelle Génération, Centre dramatique national de Lyon, and Nicolas Boudier, scenographer, device designer, lighting designer and photographer. By experience sharing, guidance every step of the way, practical research methodology and intensive exchange for trend insight, young artists will be able to expand their artistic horizon, thinking and agency.

To accentuate the transition between these realms and highlight the transformation and connection of space and the sense of time, augmented reality (AR) technology is recommended. This technology not only expands the perception of space but also integrates the theatrical elements of the performance with the visual arts of the museum, creating a unique blended experience. It's a creative experiment to explore the potential of augmented reality technology in the realm of artistic experience.
